ALEXANDRIA COUNTY, VA. - Messre, Brawner & Co., real estate brokers, in this place, have issued a pamphlet in reference to their business, and the tracts of land for sale in this and the neighboring counties. It contains brief notices of the counties. We extract the follow-

Included within this County is the city of Alexandris, with an estimated population of 15,000. The county extends along the Potomac river, on the west, a distance of about 10 miles. Its greatest width is about 4 miles, with an area, of about 36 square miles. Of improved land it contains 8291 acres and 6969 acres unimproved. The city of Alexandria is the County Seat. The population of the county, exclusive of the city, is about 3,000probably not so much.

The Alexandria and Washington railroad, extends through this county, and its local trains afford great facilities to parties residing on its line The Alexandria canal runs through the county. The Berme Bank railroad, cross ing the Alexandria Aqueduct, at Georgetown will connect with the A , L & H. Railroad and the O , A. & M. Railroad through this county. There is, also, the Washington and Alexandria turnpike, the Columbia turnpike, and several county roads.

The lands in this county are rendered very valuable as truck farms or market gardens by their proximity to the markets of Alexandria, Washington and Georgetown, which afford : demand for all the crops, that can be produced. And these markets can be reached, by wagons, Carlin's Springs, a Summer resort for the population of the neighboring cities, lies in this county on the A., L. & H. railroad, 6 miles from Alexandria and Washington.

[The county is remarkably healthy, and there are numerous beautiful sites for buildings. There are streams for mill purposes, and springs of the purest, finest water on every farm. The heights of Arlington and the banks of the Potomac near Alexandria, are much admired. There is no where in the country a more lovely vale, than the valley of Four Mile Run.

FAIRFAX COUNTY, VA. This county is bounded on the northeast by the Potomac river, east and southeast by Prince William county, and West by Londoun county; the Oc soquan river washes the southwest border. The Orange, Alexandria and Manassas rail road pasess through this county in a westerly direction, and the Alexandria, Loudoun and Hampshire railroad along its northeastern border. The surface is diversified with hills and level lands. The soil when properly cultivated is very productive and much of the worn out land has been and is now being reclaimed and put under a more thorough system of culture. and proves to be highly productive. Lands in this county which have been sold to Northern parties at five to ten dollars per acre, will now command twice, and in some cases, four times that amount.

Fairfax Court House, the county seat, 15 miles from Alexandria and Washington, lies between the Orange, Alexandria and Manas sas, and Alexandria, Loudoun and Hampshire railroads. The location is elevated-very besithy, with the purest atmosphere and water, and surrounded with a lovely panorama.

Herndon, in this county, a station on the A. L. & H. railroad. 23 miles from Alexandria, is rapidly becoming a flourishing village. Since the war a number of farms in this neighborhood have passed into the hands of Northern

Every portion of the county is convenient to the markets of Alexandria, Washington and Georgetown. The immigrant will do much better to buy lands in this county than by going to the cold climate of the West. The soil is well adapted to the raising of all kinds of crain, garden vegetables and fruits, and the value of the produce need not be exhausted by expense of transportation to market.

In this county is located the Theological Semmary of Virginia, under the patronage of the Protestant Episcopal Church. This institution is beautifully situated on the hills overlooking Alexandria, 3 miles distant.

Mount Vernon, the resting place of Washington, is also in Fairfax county, handsomely located on the Potomae, 12 miles below Alex-

SICKNESS. - The prevailing colds which seem to afflict this community almost like an epidemic at this time are the cause of considerable sickness, proving in some cases serious and even latal. No one should be tempted by the mild weather to make any change of apparel, the safe course being to wear plenty of warm clothing, - if one has it An attack of pneumonia or pleurisy is a very serious affair, not to be trifled with or invited; a very easy thing to get it desired, but not so easy to be rid of. The air being very damp, much more so than in colder winters, precautions should be taken to avoid exposure to it. A fire in the sleeping apartment during a part of each day (not at night) would tend much to make that portion of our habitations more healthful, by drying the walls and bedding. The feet are specially vulnerable points with delicate people, and great pains should be taken to keep them both dry and warm. As more than half the sickness with which we are afflicted is caused by colds, the above hints may he not out of place.

TAX SALES, -The case of Henry W. Bennett, plaintiff, vs. Alexander Hunter, in errer, to the Supreme Court of Appeals of the Commonwealth of Virginia, was set for argument in the Supreme Court of the U.S. toiay. Counsel for the plaintiff are L. E. Chittenden, W. W. Willoughby, Attorney General lloar; for the defendant in error, Judge Biack, and S. F. Beach and Gen. Garfield of Ohio. This case was brought into Court to test the validity of the titles to the property acquired at the tax sales conducted here during the war. The lower Courts held that the sales by the Tax Commissioners were informal, illegal, and void, and that the titles of the former owners are perfect and indisputable. The de ession of the Supreme Court in this case will be looked for with much interest, as there were many pieces of valuable property in and around Hampshire Raifroad. Alexandria sold at these tax sales.

To DAY. - Administration on estate of Wm. Mankin granted to Chas. Mankin, who qualified and gave bond, &c., of plaintiff-motion by defendant to set aside

PRODUCE RECEIPTS .- Among the receipts of country produce in this city during the week ending on Saturday last, by the Orange, Alexandria and Manassas Railroad, were 3,236 bushels of wheat, 8,002 of corn, 688 of oats, 160 of rye, 885 bbls.of flour, 28 boxes of tobacco, 38 bbls. and firkins of butter, 40 bbls. of eggs and 9 car loads of live stock. By the Alexandria, Loudoun and Hampshire Railroad, there were received during the same period, among the other freight, 1,228 bushels of wheat, 1,400 of corn,114 of meal, 56 of feed, 130 bbls and 36 half bbls, of flour, 31 bbls, of eggs, 31 bbls and boxes of poultry, 33 bbls. of apple and 3 car loads of live stock.

RETROCESSION .- It is said that some of the members of the Radical party in this city, despairing of ever again getting money by professions of loyalty in Alexandria, while the county remains a portion of Virginia, are holding secret meetings and obtaining the names of the colored people to petitions to Congress praying that body to revoke the retrocession act. If these people read the Gazette they would know that some of the Radical leaders in Congress are firm supporters of the act they want annulled.

SCHOOL EXHIBITION .- As will be seen by their advertisement in to-day's Gazette, the students of St. John's Academy will give an exhibition for the increase of the school library, which already numbers 900 volumes, at Liberty Hall, on the evening of the 221. From the high reputation they have for getting up affairs of the sort we are sure they may count upon a full attendance.

ROBBERIES.-Thieving in the country immediately around West End is said never to have been more prevalent than at present. On Saturday night last the mill of the Messrs. Watkins was broken open, but fortunately nothing of value taken. The premises of Mr. Henry Bontz were invaded a night or two ago, and a raid made upon his poultry.

TRESPASS .- A party of young men, the identity of some of whom is suspected, yesterday visited the house of Mrs. Samuel Trundel, on the river shore, a short distance above the outlet lock of the canal, and because they were not admitted, climbed up on the root of the building and knocked the chimney down.

CASE DISMISSED .- The case of the Commonwealth against Jacob Harmon, charged with burning the dwelling house on the Arkendale Estate, in Stafford county, was dismissed yesterday, as the parties upon whose evidence the arrest was made, and who are residents of this city, failed to make their appearance.

A FREAK OF NATURE.-Mrs. Stearns, a resident of the 1st Ward, brought to this office yesterday evening, as that day's product of a ten months old pullet, two eggs, the bases of which were joined together in one membrane, and upon neither of which was there any calcarious deposit.

THE STEAMER ARROW. - The steamer Arrow, Capt. Stackpole, will continue her daily trip to Mount Vernon, and not draw off for repairs, as was at first reported. The fine weath. er of yesterday drew out a number of visitors, who had a delighted tip to the Toinb of Washington.

BELL RINGERS. - The second and last appearance of the Peak family at Liberty Hall last night, was greeted with a large and apparently delighted audience. The troupe left here today for Washington, where they will give several more performances.

Hoos -Complaints about hogs going at large, and about hog pens within the corporation limits, continue to be made. Two porkers eaught yesterday while ranging through the streets were taken up and confiscated, but were restored to their owners on payment of costs.

TRANSPERRED .-- E. H. Delahay, assistant in spector of Internal Revenue, has been transferred from this city to Lynchburg, and Daniel Lewis, storekeeper, has been transferred to MEAT STALL BROKEN OPEN .- The meat stall of Mr. John Baggot, in the market house, was broken open last night and robbed of about mill employed over seven hundred hands. $25 worth of meat.

BREVITIES. -The fire alarm bell of the Relief Hook and Ladder Company will not have to be recast as was once supposed. The crack has been sawed out, and the sound of the beli is now almost as clear as it was before it was

A splendid passenger car was turned out of the work shop of the A., L. & H. R. R. in this city this morning, and the locomotive, injured by the fire at Hamilton some time ago, will soon be in running order again, having been repaired at the same shop. The work done at this shop will compare favorably with any turned out of the railroad shops farther

The stern wheel steamer Virginia, has been sold by her owner, Captain Gregg, to parties in King George county. She will be retained upon the river. Captain Gregg is making atrangements for having another steamer of the same model constructed.

A bill was favorably reported in the West Virginia Legislature yesterday, granning a chart er to the Washington and Ohio Railroad, the new name for the Alexandria, Londonn and

TELEGRAPH NEWS.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Feb 17-3 p. m. CONGRESS.

In the Senate, to day, Mr. Summer present ed the memorial of J. Hawksburst and other loyal citizens of Fairfax Co., Va., setting forth that during the war their farms, buildings, &c., were used and occupied by the Union forces, and asking compensation for such use, and for damages, &c - reterred to the Committee on Claims.

Mr. Scott from the Committee on Naval Al airs reported the following:

Resolved. That in the judgment of this Comnittee Congress should not attempt the restoration of naval officers to the naval service who have been dismissed under sentence of court martial unless such restoration be recommended by the President-iaid on the table.

Mr. Willey reported adversely to the claim of W. A. Green, of Va. -laid on the table. Mr. Drake introduced a bill to amend the acts relating to naturalization. He opposed any change in the fundamental principles of naturalization, but advocated additional legis lation to prevent fraud - referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Mr. Johnston presented several applications for the removal of disabilities.

Mr. Johnston presented, also, a memorial of William and Mary College asking an appropriation from Congress in aid of restoring the buret building of that institution.

The Mississippi bill was then taken up, and Mr. Fowler addressed the Senate opposing the fundamental conditions,

In the House of Representatives the Utah bill was discussed.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Mr. McKenzie is anxious to get the floor in order to press the bill for the relief of disabilities. He expects to be able to get the floor for this purpose some time this afternoon.

There is a Radical delegation here from Virginia, which seeks to prejudice members in opposition to the present passage of any bill removing political disabilities, except Butler's bill, which refers the disabled to the Courts of the United States for redress. The effect of this policy would be to defer action on the cases in Virginia until after the election of judges.

The case of the Alexandria and Washington Railroad Company vs. the Washington, Georgetown and Alexandria Railroad Company, was again before Chanceller Wylie this morning on a motion by Mr. Riddle to set aside a decree pro confesso. The motion is being argued. Francis Miller appears in this case as the associate of Mr. Riddle. Hon. F. P. Stanton appears for Mr. French.

Secretary Boutwell sells one million of gold to day. He sells no hands this week.

The case of Henry M. Bennet, lessee of Chittenden vs. Alex. Hunter, was argued in the Supreme Court of the United States to-day

This case was originally brought in the Circuit Court of Alexandria to recover the posession of Hunter's tarm. The defence is tounded upon a certificate of sale made by the U. S. Tax Commissioners. The Circuit Court gave indement for Hunter, and the Virginia Court of Appeals sustained the Circuit Court The construction of the U. S. tax law and the validity of a title acquired under it.

Mr. Chittenden opened the ease. Mr. Beach followed, and will be succeeded in the argument by Judge Willoughby.

SPECIAL NOTICES. What does Reason say?

The little mongoose when bitten by a deadly serpent resorts to a certain plant, cats of it, and escapes the effect of the poison. That is instinct. Human beings, on the other hand, must de-pend on reason and experience in selecting the means of protecting health and life against unwholesome influences. Now, what does reason say on this vital subject? Does it not tell us that to invigorate and purify the system is the best way to protect it against the invisible poison which generates disease? Surely it does The next question is, what guide shall we follow in choosing a medicinal safeguard? Reason replies let your monitor be experience. Well, the experience of eighteen years comprised in one unbroken series of satisfactory testimonials assures us that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters possess strengthening, regulating and and antiseptic properties which are not combined in the same happy proportions in any other prepara-tion extant. This, therefore, is the antidote to which reason bids us resort when our health is imperrilled either by the malaria which pro duces epidemic disorders, or by any other cause, whether inherent and constitutional or connected with our habits, occupations and pursuits,

The venom of a noxious reptile is scarcely more subtle and dangerous than that which lurks in toul air and impure water. To escape the fevers, bilious disorders disturbances of the bowels, and other serious maladies produced by these in alubrious elements, it is absolutely secessary that the stomach and all the secretive organs should be, so to speak, in a robust condition. Upon the amount of resistance which the vital system can oppose to the deleterious influences that assail it the safety of the health depends, and it is because the GREAT VEGETABLE INVIGORANT imparts energy and regularity to the most important functions of the body, that it can be recommended and guaranteed as an involved to 14-colw
